

National Severe Weather Warning Service

Chief Forecasters Assessment

A cold front is expected to move eastwards across the yellow area during Friday evening and night, before clearing during Saturday morning.

Around 5-15 mm of rain is expected to fall quite widely, with 40 mm possible over high ground - most likely across Wales and southwest England.

This warning has been updated to extend the area eastwards across other southern counties of England.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 17:00 on Fri, 29th Jan 2016 until 08:00 on Sat, 30th Jan 2016

Further spells of heavy rain are expected to develop across southern parts of England and Wales during Friday evening, persisting overnight before clearing away to the southeast during Saturday morning. The most prolonged spells of rain are likely to be over high ground.

Be aware of the potential for further localised flooding and disruption to travel.
